CELEBRITY TO-DO LISTS

uncovered by Justin Anderson, Liam Eagle and Aaron Abrams

May 5, 2002

INTRODUCTION:

We all know there's a lot more to celebrity living than those of us in the masses are witness to. Beyond the glitz and glamour of red carpets and black dresses, most celebrities lead a very regimented existence, with schedules for everything from public appearances and promotional tours to things as simple as eating.

Most of us aren't aware, however, of the extent to which celebrities' lives are planned out. Some go so far as to schedule their careers, love lives and even their public indiscretions.

Here at Somethingspace, we thought we'd offer our readers a glimpse into the planning done by some of the famous people we all know and love by showing you some "celebrity to-do lists."

As you 'll see, many of the world's most fabulous superstars have elaborate life-plans. Some are well on the way to completing their plans, and others have a long way to go.

We hope you'll enjoy reading these, and perhaps learn a little more about the kind of organization it takes to be a famous, shining star.
